Get ready to take a dive into the fun world of fishing!

ROD ANATOMY MATCH

A fishing rod seems simple, but there are lots of parts we need to make it work, do you know what they are?

- BAIT: A natural attractant like worms or baitfish that tempts the fish into biting the hook.
- BOBBER: A ball attached to fishing line that floats. It keeps bait from sinking to the bottom and can help you see when a fish bites!
- FLY: A special kind of lure with strings and feathers used in river fishing.
- LINE: A special string made for fishing.
- LURE: An item designed to look like the fish's prey or other food it would like to eat.
- REEL: A device that holds, spools out, and retrieves the fishing line.
- SINKER: A weight that helps pull the line down in the water, closer to the ocean floor.

These letters may look random, but all the words listed below are hidden in there. Can you find them?

CONSERVATION  BAIT  HALIBUT
FISHING  BOBBER  ROD
ANGLER  REEL  BOAT
OCEAN  LINE  FISHERMAN

Hint: Look for words in multiple directions.

Drop your fishing line to the habitat you think we are most likely to find them in!
Thanks for helping clean up the coast! The Santa Barbara Channel is full of unique wildlife that help create a diverse and unique ecosystem. Keeping it clean protects our planet and these beautiful creatures who call the ocean their home.

CONSERVATION & WILDLIFE

Can you spot new feathered friends who love the clean beach? Color in the Pelican, the Seagull and the Cormorant!

SOMETHING’S WRONG!

Someone was a litter bug. Can you find the 10 ways you can help our oceans, beaches and wildlife in the drawing below by crossing them out? Guppies take care of our beaches and our environment, and always do what’s right to protect our oceans.

Solution on page 10
We were so ______ to go out with Reel Guppy Outdoors for our day of fishing! The sun was shining, which reminded us to pack sunscreen to protect our skin from turning ______ . Before we headed out to the water, we made sure each person put on their life jacket to stay ______ and safe in and around the water. Once at our fishing site we prepped our fishing ______ and baited our ______ hooks. After a long time patiently fishing, I felt a ______ on the line and reeled in. I did it! I caught a fish! When it was time to leave, we made sure to clean and ______ our site. We never leave behind any trash or fishing ______ . We left the site looking great for the next anglers and safe for other wildlife. It was a ______ day! We cannot wait to go again! Next time I think I’ll invite my friend ______ .
THE CHANNEL ISLANDS

The Santa Barbara Channel is the water between the mainland and the Channel Islands.

The Channel Islands National Marine Sanctuary protects 1,470 square miles of ocean waters around the Channel Islands. These are safe spaces where endangered species, sensitive habitats and historic shipwrecks are protected through research, education, conservation, and stewardship.

Can you circle the things you saw today on your Guppy expedition?

Color in the protected habitat and the Garibaldi fish.
